We love to engage with our community, from office hours to presentations to sponsoring, organizing, and hosting an event. Email us if you'd like to collaborate!

Cookie Decorating 12/13

Ring in the holidays with the joy of cookies! We'll be at Feeding Chittenden this Tuesday 12/13, 1:30-2:30.

All supplies are provided. Just show up and help us decorate (and eat) cookies. Our employment specialist will be there to assist any jobseekers.

Community Job Fair 1/15

We're teaming up with local businesses and King St Laundry to bring a job fair to our neighbors.

Everyone is welcome from 11-2 on Sunday 1/15 in Burlington. Spread the word — we'll have free laundry vouchers and food available as well!

Job Applicant Tips 1/20

Join us at SaVida Health in Colchester on 1/20 from 2:30-4.

We're offering a free session on resume and interview best practices, particularly for people with non-traditional backgrounds.

Welcome to Our New Hires!

Our team has some new faces — help us welcome them!

You can get to know your local team on our staff page.

Sandi Coyle (middle) joined us in November and now serves New Hampshire's Manchester and Seacoast regions. Tess Champoux (2nd from left) arrives in January and brings exciting news with her... stay tuned for more!

Working Fields is a mission-driven staffing agency. We help individuals build the lives they want through peer support and job opportunities. By addressing systemic barriers to employment — such as transportation, housing, convictions, or substance use disorder — our people-first approach enables employers to hire from a larger pool of talented candidates.
